EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

Allowable Subject Matter

1. Claims 24, 89, 95 and 96 are allowed.
2. An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.
3. Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with Marcia Doubet on October 17, 2005.

AMMENDMENT to APPLICATION

4. The application has been amended as follows:
  - a) Claims 25, 30, 38, 64, 66, 83 and 91-93 have been canceled.
  - b) Replace claim 24 with the following:

--A method of enhancing voice mail messages by incorporating one or more background sounds which are selected, by a caller who speaks a voice mail message, from a plurality of

Art Unit: 2645

background sounds offered to the caller by a called party's voice mail system, with the voice mail message for playback to a listener, wherein the voice mail message comprises a plurality of message segments, and wherein each of the selected background sounds is associated with one or more of the message segments, further comprising the step of transmitting an address of each of the selected background sounds from a telephone or telephone system used by the caller to the called party's voice mail system to locate a file containing a respective one of the selected background sounds and wherein each address is a Uniform Resource Locator.-

c) Replace claim 89 with the following:

--A computer program product for enhancing voice mail messages for playback to a listener, the computer program product embodied on one or more computer-readable media and comprising:

computer-readable program code means for incorporating one or more background sounds which are selected, by a caller who speaks a voice mail message for a called party, from a plurality of background sounds offered to the caller by the called party's voice mail system, with the voice mail message, wherein the voice mail message comprises a plurality of message segments, and wherein each of the selected background sounds is associated with one or more of the message segments; and computer-readable program code means for transmitting an address of each of the selected background sounds from a telephone or telephone system used by the caller to the called party's voice mail system to locate a file containing a respective one of the selected background sounds and wherein each address is a Uniform Resource Locator---

Art Unit: 2645

d) Please insert the following new claims:

Claim 95: The method according to Claim 24, wherein the plurality of sounds is offered to the caller by transmitting a list of sounds from the called party's voice mail system to the caller's telephone or telephone system.

Claim 96: The method according to Claim 24, wherein the plurality of sounds is offered to the caller by audibly prompting the caller from the called party's voice mail system when the caller speaks the voice mail message.

Art Unit: 2645

REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

5. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Ball et al, U.S. Patent No. 6,393,107 (hereinafter Ball) discloses:

A method of enhancing voice mail messages by incorporating one or more selected background sounds with a voice mail message for playback to a listener (121), wherein the voice mail message comprises a plurality of message segments, and wherein each of the selected background sounds is associated with one or more of the message segments, further comprising the step of transmitting an address of each of the selected background sounds from a telephone or telephone system (101) used by a speaker (103) of the voice mail message, wherein each address may be used to locate a file containing a respective one of the selected background sounds and wherein each address is a Uniform Resource Locator (see Table 1 from column 8).

However Ball fails to teach the plurality of background sounds are offered to the caller (103) by a called party's (121) voice mail system (104).
